BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.
AUGUSTA (Me.) Aug. 27.—The perfect weather continued today to favor the President on his tour through New England. He showed no evidences of fatigue from yesterday's severe strain. Early in the forenoon he was taken for a drive about the city, and shown the beauties of the scenery along the Kennebec River. Three times the President's carriage was halted in order that he might receive bouquets from the hands of little children. At the office of the Kennebec Journal, the newspaper of which James G. Blaine formerly was editor, a stop was made. The President was shown a desk at which Mr. Blaine was accustomed to work.

The President left here at 2:30 a. m. for Bangor.

The train was slowed down also at Waterville, and the President made a brief address to the people.

JACKSON SMITH GETS AWAY FROM GUAYAQUIL.
UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE OF AN AMERICAN RAILROAD MAN.
Dashes into a Pack of Trouble by Rashly Accusing a Prominent Citizen of Ecuador of Getting Drunk and Leaving Country Suddenly.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—On the British steamship Colombia, Jackson Smith, an American resident of Guayaquil, Ecuador, who had made himself persona non grata with the Ecuadorian authorities, was enabled to escape from Guayaquil, says a San Francisco dispatch to the Times. Smith was taken to Panama, whence he proceeded to New York.

Smith was a sub-contractor on the railroad to connect Guayaquil with Quito, the capital, up in the Andes. He is said to have accused a prominent citizen with drunkenness, was arrested for libel, and fined $100 in gold. Smith refused to pay the fine, and having been placed in jail, United States Consul Leon demanded his release. When the case was reported to Washington, the cruiser Philadelphia was sent to Guayaquil, but the Consul was relieved just before dawn.

When the Columbia reached Guayaquil on the way up the coast, a small boat, containing Smith and a friend met the steamer just before dawn, and the men were allowed to climb aboard. A few hours later the captain of the port went out to the Columbia for the purpose of taking Smith ashore, but he had hidden in a safe place, and was not apprehended.

PLACE OF REFUGE.

Says His Sole Object in Escaping Was to Kill a Deputy Sheriff for Alleged Perjured Testimony That Caused His Conviction.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.
BUTTE (Mont.) Aug. 27.—With officers of the State Penitentiary upon his trail assisted by bloodhounds, Convict Tom O'Brien, who last Friday made a daring escape from the State prison, has sent a communication to the Miner, pleading for a public statement of his alleged crime, and vowing the death of Under Sheriff Dave Morgan, whose alleged perjured testimony, the convict declares, sent him to prison and wrecked his home.

The document received by the Miner bears the postmark of Anaconda. The writer dates his communication from a mountain in the surrounding hills of Anaconda, and says that he wrote his story behind a rock, dividing his time between his Winchester and his pen. The communication is a literary treat, and no question exists as to its authenticity, as the handwriting has been fully identified by the warden of the prison.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 27.—The proprietors and editors of the newspaper, the "Nieuwe Amsterdam," have issued a statement that there is no truth in the story of differences between Mr. Kruger, Dr. Leyds and the editor of the "Nieuwe Amsterdam," and that the paper is in a most harmonious state.

By the terms of the compact, Mrs. Nelson and through her the brothers of Mr. Fair receive a gift of money in exchange for which they renounce all claims. The estate of Charles L. The only possibility of any future dispute lies in the discovery of a will of Charles Fair, leaving property to others than his kindred, and in the fact that such a will exists or did exist at one time is stated in positive terms by several of Fair's friends, who find they have received no part of the millions.

Mrs. Nelson has announced her intention of making her home in California. Her sons, Charles J. Smith of Boulder, Colo., and Abraham G. Nelson of Newmarket, N. Y., will remain here for some time. The document, which all Fair property was transferred to Mrs. Orlinda and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was signed by Hannah E. Nelson, Abraham G. Nelson and Charles J. Smith.

REMAINS ARE SHIPPED.
PARIS, Aug. 27.—The remains of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who were killed August 14, in an automobile accident, were removed from the Church of St. Martin at 8 o'clock after a brief service, held in the presence of a dozen persons.

A cross and a wreath of white flowers were placed on the coffins before they were lowered into the earth. The coffins were taken away in two undertakers' vans. In order to avoid attracting attention, the first van drove off as soon as it was loaded, the second following five minutes later. The coffins were placed on the freight station of the Gare d'Orsay, where the coffins were inclosed in packing cases.

So much secrecy was observed with regard to the shipment of the bodies that as late as 6:30 o'clock this evening the remains were refused to name the person from which they are to be shipped to the steamer which is to take them.

CLOUDBURST AT JEROME.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.
PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Aug. 27.—Word was received here today that Hugh Matthews, representing the cyanide process of treating ore in this section, was drowned last night on Groom Creek. Matthews had been in that section for a number of years putting up tanks, and looking after the business of the company.

White Angel Hauling of the Prescott and Eastern Railroad at Providence was at his supper last evening when a fire broke out in the kitchen. He fled to the back of the house, and the balance to the railroad company. There is no clue to the robbery.

Word has just been received here that the worst storm in its history visited Jerome yesterday. Water poured down the mountain sides in torrents, depositing debris and mud. The United Verde plant is a depth of from eight inches to two feet. The boarding-house stands on a hillside and the water came down in great quantities that it rose to the height of the roof. A thirty-five-foot fall in the Jerome Railroad was washed out, which will necessitate a transfer of traffic for several days until the damage is repaired. In the south side of Jerome is a deep gulch, several thousand dollars' worth of mining machinery, including hoist and air compressors, belonging to G. W. Hull, was completely ruined. One barn was also washed away. The property loss is estimated at a value of up to thousands.

It is estimated that it will take one hundred men thirty days to clean away the debris and put the plant of the United Verde Company in the shape it was before the storm.

YOUNG MAN MURDERED.
SHOT BY SANTA FE WATCHMAN.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.
SANTA FE, Aug. 27.—N. C. Rogers, a young man, was shot and killed in the yards of the Santa Fe company at an early hour this morning by Watchman Sullivan.

Rogers, with a companion, John Hoffman, also of Santa Fe, came upon the Santa Fe yard early last night, but in making his rounds at an early hour this morning he happened upon them. He fired at them, and Hoffman was killed. Sullivan drew his pistol, and fired with results fatal to Rogers.

John Hoffman tells an entirely different story. He claims that he and Rogers were asleep in the car, and were awakened by the sound of a bell. Half-awake, they went to the door, and started to run, but had hardly gotten to the door when Sullivan fired, killing Rogers. Several severe bruises on Hoffman's body, tend to substantiate his story.

PALA VALLEY FOR INDIANS.

Lummis' Report Accepted and Announcement Expected.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 27.—It is known here that the report of the Lummis Indian Commission on the selection of a home for the Warner Ranch Indians has been accepted by the government, and the announcement will be made as soon as the titles to the property are approved. The examination, which is being made by an abstract company in this city, is nearly complete.

The land which will without doubt be selected is in the Pala Valley, and is contiguous to the 3000 acres owned by the government, upon which the Pala Indians are living. Seven of the farmers of that section bunched their property, placing it in the hands of Frank A. Salmons, the Pala merchant, who has had the handling of the deal.

The fact that schools and churches are already established there is believed to have had great weight with the commission. The locality has an abundance of water, and the land is fertile. Mr. Salmons will be in the city within three days, when the papers will be made up and passed on to the commission.

HARTY LAUGHTER IS THEIR MEDICINE.

THE CURE ADMINISTERED BY THE MICROBISTS.

Stranger Club Among Patients in Denver, Colo., Whose Mission Is the Doing of Good to Fellow Sufferers—Their Uncanny Initiation Ceremonies.

[Denver Correspondent, Cincinnati Enquirer:] In the suburbs of Denver a very unique club has been founded by prominent newspaper men, college graduates, physicians and others, R. W. Bramley of Cincinnati; Bruce Cunningham of Wheeling, W. Va.; Charlie Harding of Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Cusick Brothers, of Terre Haute; James Philip Cuddy, well known in Chicago, and a score of other easterners have thrown themselves into this new movement and styled themselves the Microbe Club. The object of the organization is to benefit the sick and to "do" the healthy. The main requisite for membership is that the applicant be a consumptive. The officers of the club are designated as follows:

Right Upper Lobe—Richard A. Leigh.

Keeper of "The Bugs"—Orville Cusick.

Constructive Engineer—Dr. N. A. Wood.

The membership includes several dozen brainy men from the different eastern sections who have come west for health. The principal requirement for membership is that the applicant be a consumptive, and if he can prove this satisfactorily he is taken into the fold. The object of the club is helping the sick and "doing" the healthy. When Mr. Cuddy first came to Denver he gathered around him the set of genial, big-hearted fellows, and from the very inception of the suburban colony it has been a go.

PRACTICAL WORK.

Aside from the element of fun, which is a big factor in the scheme of getting well, a lot of good practical work is being done toward aiding the unfortunate consumptives. When the sick are regularly visited they are regaled with bright stories and pleasant chat, and their spirits are lifted up from the depressing condition into which poor health has plunged them. The invalid soon looks upon the club as his redemption, and he truthfully receives much comfort from the organization. If he be in want, then he is aided by money and sick-room delicacies are cheerfully supplied him. It is conceded by these Microbists that the real thing for consumptives is honey of the bee, the milk and flesh of the cow and the egg of the hen. So this very correct diet is immortalized in the annals of the club by being utilized and exalted in the initiation formula.

Uncanny as the initiation ceremony seems to be the evolution of the outside lunger to an inside Microbe is very ludicrous, and the increase in numbers bears no terrors for the enthusiasts after health. The candidate for microbe honors presents himself in the consolation chamber, where the members form a semi-circle in the sacred space, with the head center Lobe in the middle, seated upon an elevated mock throne, at the foot of which the applicant for brotherhood communicates in the initiation formula.

The sacred hymn of the club is sung softly, while the members of the acting board are making arrangements to introduce several touches of realism that must accompany the festivities.

HAS TO DRINK IT.

Brothers delegated to do the work step out from the semi-circle with all the requisite utensils. Two advance to the side of the kneeling consumptive and one of them pours a glass of warm beef's blood, and the other the purest, freshest milk. Silence prevails for a few minutes. Then the respective glasses are passed in turn to the postulants and he is compelled to swallow the whole contents as the presiding officer calls upon the sun and the elements to unite in making the world a veritable happy hunting ground for their new brother. The bugs of creation are petitioned to grant a solemn benediction on him. Finally, as he drains the last drop of blood from the little receptacle, all present call upon the gods of fate to grant to the new member "the courage and strength of the ox, that he may bear manfully and successfully the trials and crosses of the disease."

To some the blood drinking proves quite nauseous, but, safely over that, the next order is not so uninviting.

Two other brothers now approach, one carrying in his hand two raw eggs, the other a small tin of ointment, and the second man displays a couple of select chicken feathers. The candidate is told to hastily devour the contents of one egg, and while he is engaged in doing that the brothers, in mock voices, ask for the showering upon the head of the applicant, the virtue of meanness, the chief attribute of the barnyard chancier, and also to withhold with humility and love the annoyance and abuse of a selfish world. Then, as by way of a final test of the fidelity and patience of the applicant, the remaining egg is carefully fully distributed among the locks of his hair. The chicken feathers are presented to him as a token of condolence in the admission of the club.

THE SWEETEST DOSE.

The sweetest and the most acceptable dose is the liquid honey, with the accompanying prayer "that he may be inspired by the perseverance and industry of the bee, and while he is engaged in helping his fellow-men."

Six bottles placed side by side, filled each with milk, beer, whisky, castor oil, cod liver oil and a very digestible emulsion (which is used only in case force is needed with struggling consumptives) are on a table from which the new member selects one. As he is blindfolded, he has no clue as to the contents, but he must keep on drinking of his choice until he is forbidden by the head center lobe. The conclusion of the ceremonies is emphasized by a very nice light lunch, wholly in keeping with the hemian ideas of those present.

The Microbes tell an incident which illustrates their work. Some time ago Harry Putnam, a dentist, and graduate of An Arbor, came to Denver in the last stages of tuberculosis. After remaining in one of the city hospitals for a time, his funds were exhausted. A relative near the Microbe settlement was under the impression that he had money, and essayed to do for him, till one day, discovering that he was penniless, she made his life a burden. His tent was pitched in a yard. The Microbes knew his story. Twenty-two of them stole noiselessly one night, and the tent and the bed of the invalid bodily, without as much as disturbing a cover, and carried the whole thing into a neighbor's property.

WOMEN AND THEIR HAND.

The Microbes and their Hand of Mercy, composed of women who hold their services in instant readiness, kept constant care of him. His disease had gained too great a headway, and it was impossible for him to recover. They shipped his body back to old friends in Canada, and the club defrayed all expenses. Putnam was a cousin of William D. Howell.

The good the society is doing is manifold. Flowers, books and magazines are cheerfully contributed. Benefactors are successfully engineered to provide food and clothing for the ones unfortunate enough to be in want. Visits are made frequently to all the afflicted brothers and sisters. Dollars and past conditions are but a slight figure in the actions of the club. The brothers are successful in many of their services to each other.

During the summer trip, a number of the colony take a summer trip to the mountains. A camp located in one of the cool retreats near the foothills has given untold comfort to many of the members. Some of the head lobes keep constant watch over the sick brethren that are left at home when the rest of the club is camping in shady mountain dells.

The Microbe Club is destined to exist, and the increasing membership testifies to the excellent work accomplished, enlists attention to the unselfish acts of one better known to another, and fully exemplifies the depth of goodness in each human heart.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Morgan Williams, who matched his fight "Young" Peter Jackson before the Acme Club of Oakland, spent a busy day at Croile yesterday. In the morning he went out on the road with Harry Foley and Eddie Hanlon. The latter two told their manager, Mike Short, that Williams can go on the road with somebody else in the future. "Why," said Foley, "that fellow was as fresh when we returned as if we had not run at all. He wanted to keep on the road all the time, and the pace he kept up was heart-breaking."

Hanlon said he wished he had as good wind as Williams. "I used to think that my wind was as good as any of the local fighters, but I have to hand it to Williams. My, but he can hit," said Eddie. "I told Edwards, who is managing Williams, that he would have to buy a punching bag of his own, as his man has broken mine on two different occasions."

Hanlon also gave notice that he would take no further chances of getting hurt by Williams. He said after a four-round bout that the Denverite was the stiffest puncher he had ever put the gloves on with.

BOUGHT BY HAGGIN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LEXINGTON, Aug. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Thoroughbred circles were startled here today by the announcement that James H. Haggin, proprietor of the Elmendorf stud, had purchased the historic Kentucky Association race track for $300,000. The course was owned by Charles L. Green of St. Louis, who took it on a mortgage when the racing association here went under. The track had not been closed, but as soon as Haggin's attorney had passed on the title, it will be closed.

It is said the grounds will be used as a training place for the Haggin yardlings, and that the track will not be broken and trained in the East, as heretofore. The grand stand and stables will be torn down, and the ground divided into paddocks for yearlings.

It may be that Haggin intends to revive racing here, but this is doubted. The Kentucky Association track was founded in 1825. The racing was a private venture in the fall of 1898. Longfellow, Hindoo, Luke Blackburn, Tom Bowling, and other old-time stars first appeared over the Kentucky Association course. The most prominent Kentucky starmen were identified with it in its early days. It is the second oldest race track in America.

FATAL BEEFEAST IN MAN'S THROAT.

VENTURA, Aug. 27.—Monell Gonzalez, a Spanish musician, who was well known and had many friends here, met sudden death in a singular manner this evening. While taking supper at the Royal Cafe, a piece of beef-bone, large as a swallow, became lodged in his throat. His predicament was such that ordinary assistance was of no avail, and though a physician was hastily summoned, Gonzalez was choked to death before he arrived. He was 40 years of age and considered a man of talent and ability in his profession.

SALONOS NOT WANTED.

Santa Paula does not want saloons. The town was recently incorporated, and now there is a strong movement on foot to do away with the "boozes" of the leading citizens and business men. The town would settle the question, and the liquor men would be compelled to shut up shop, but as yet this is not the case, owing to the fact that the expense of the corporation have been and will be heavy for the first year. The trustees have not been able to figure out where they could make ends meet without the revenue. It is the same old story. A large number of the leading citizens and business men held a mass meeting Monday night to consider the subject. They considered the proposition of raising sufficient money to take the place of the saloon money. It was soon found that there is about $1000 in stock, which leaves $300 to be raised, as there are three saloons paying $400 a year. A committee was appointed to confer with the Town Trustees. On this committee are Hon. N. W. Blanchard, C. R. McKee, D. W. Huffman, H. R. Crowell, H. C. Henderson and Dr. Kelsey, who will meet the board at the next session.

BREAKING LUMBER MONOPOLY.

The lumber monopoly will not last long in this country. Articles of incorporation for the Ventura Lumber Company have been filed in the office of the County Clerk. This new company proposes to carry on a general business of breaking, cutting and selling, operate planing mills, do a grain and feed business. The principal place of business will be Ventura. The directors are E. A. Giddings, R. Teague, R. C. Sudden, D. A. Webster and F. A. Orton. The capital stock is $100,000, of which $100,000 has been subscribed. This company will absorb the planing mill of H. A. Giddings, also his mammoth brick yard, and the feed mill and sawmill of F. A. Orton.

Some months ago the People's Lumber Company absorbed the entire properties of the Ventura Lumber Company, and now controls the entire lumber business in the county. Even with a monopoly the People's Lumber Company has been unable to break through the flesh and overall. Amputation of the foot was found necessary and the stump has been broken to Santa Barbara for treatment.

THEY NEVER CAME.

The local committees, who were so diligent in their preparations to receive the visiting Knights of Pythias, who were expected to arrive here on the trail wagon broke, causing the wagon to leave the grade. Simpson was thrown and his left ankle shattered in the fall. The horse cuttle down through the flesh and overall. Amputation of the foot was found necessary and the stump has been broken to Santa Barbara for treatment.

FIVE YEARS FOR FORGER.

Thomas Hunt, the forger, has been sentenced to serve five years in San Quentin. He pleaded guilty and is awaiting transportation to the state prison.

JUST IN TIME.

Charles Mitchell of Nevada is here and arrived just in time to participate in the dedication of his mother's estate. His mother, Mrs. Richard Cox.

Michigan Women Attempt Solution of the Servant Question by Following Bellamy's Plan.

[Kalamazoo Correspondence, Cincinnati Enquirer.] Kalamazoo, a prosperous little village twenty-five miles west of this city, on the main line of the Michigan Central Railroad, is the scene of an interesting experiment now being made, which may lead eventually to a solution of the problem of economic living and do away with some of the annoyances involved in the servant question. It is a system of cooperative living which did not have its origin in the brain of a village Bellamy, but of a practical business man, and while it cannot yet be said to be a success, the chances seem in favor of such a result. Incidentally it may be remarked that those who have undertaken this project in a village of some 1500 inhabitants express the opinion that it would be even more practical in the cities, where the considerations which led to this move are even more pressing.
